SECTION 1

The Complete Selling System

Everything you need to go from a finished table piece to money in your account—step by step, platform by platform.

You already know how to make beautiful table runners, placemats, and centerpieces. What you need now is a repeatable system for turning those pieces into sales. This section gives you that system across three channels: online marketplaces, social media, and smart pricing that protects your profit.

Your workspace is where every piece begins — cord, tools, and a clear table are all you need to get started.

1.1 Marketplace Setup

Your first sale is going to come from one of three places: an online marketplace, a social media post, or a local event. This chapter walks you through setting up each channel so that when a buyer is ready, your shop is ready too.

Etsy: Your Online Storefront

Etsy is the single best marketplace for handmade table pieces because buyers go there specifically looking for handcrafted items. They expect to pay more than mass-produced retail prices, and they value the story behind each piece. Here is exactly how to set up your Etsy shop.

- 1 Create your account. Go to etsy.com/sell and click "Get started." Use a dedicated email address for your craft business so orders and messages stay separate from personal mail. Choose "Table Patterns" or your own shop name—keep it short, memorable, and related to table decor.
- 2 Set your shop preferences. Choose your country, currency, and language. Set your shop to English if your primary market is the US, UK, Canada, or Australia.
- 3 Write your shop announcement. This is the first thing buyers see. Write two to three sentences about what you make, the materials you use, and what makes your pieces different. Example: "Handcrafted table runners, placemats, and centerpieces made from natural cotton cord and jute. Each piece is designed to turn an everyday table into something worth gathering around."
- 4 Set your shop policies. Cover processing time (typically 3–7 business days for made-to-order, 1–2 days for ready-to-ship), shipping methods and estimated delivery, and your return policy. A clear policy builds buyer confidence.
- 5 Upload your shop banner and logo. Your banner image should be 1200×300 pixels and show your best table setting. Your logo should be 500×500 pixels—a clean photo of one piece on a white background works well.
- 6 Complete the About section. Tell the story of how you started making table pieces. Buyers connect with makers who share their process. Include a photo of yourself at your workspace if you are comfortable doing so.
- 7 List your first item. Use the listing templates in Section 5 of this guide. Each listing needs a title with keywords, 10 photos, a description, price, shipping details, and tags.

Etsy Search Tip

Etsy search ranks new shops higher for the first few weeks. Use this window to list at least five items, fill out every section of your profile, and respond to any messages within two hours. This early activity signals to Etsy that your shop is active and trustworthy.

ETSY LISTING OPTIMIZATION CHECKLIST

Before You Publish Each Listing

- ☐ Title includes primary keyword in first 40 characters (e.g., "Macrame Table Runner" not "Beautiful Handmade Item")
- ☐ All 13 tags used, each a different keyword phrase
- ☐ At least 7 photos uploaded, with the first being the hero shot
- ☐ Description starts with what the item is, not your shop story
- ☐ Dimensions listed in both inches and centimeters
- ☐ Materials section completed with every material used
- ☐ Processing time set accurately (do not underestimate)
- ☐ Shipping profile assigned with calculated or flat rate
- ☐ Item categorized correctly under Home & Living > Kitchen & Dining > Table Linens
- ☐ Price covers materials, labor, fees, and profit margin

Facebook Marketplace: Local and Fast

Facebook Marketplace reaches buyers in your area who want to buy today. The advantage: no listing fees, no shipping hassle (many buyers pick up locally), and a massive audience. The challenge: you are competing with everything from used furniture to electronics, so your listing needs to stand out.

- 1 Set up a business page (separate from your personal profile). Name it with your craft business name. This keeps your personal life separate and looks more professional to buyers.
- 2 List from your business page. On Marketplace, click "Create new listing," choose "Item for sale." Write a clear title with keywords: "Handmade Macrame Table Runner – Natural Cotton – 72 inches" is much better than "Pretty table thing I made."
- 3 Set your location. Use a nearby landmark or town center rather than your home address. Offer to meet in a public place for pickups.
- 4 Price it right. Facebook buyers expect lower prices than Etsy. Price your Marketplace pieces 10–15% below your Etsy price to account for zero shipping and no fees. You can also list at full price and mark it as "negotiable."

- 5 Respond fast. Facebook ranks listings partly by response time. Answer every inquiry within one hour during business hours. Use saved replies for common questions about dimensions, materials, and pricing.
- 6 Renew regularly. Relist items every 7 days to push them back to the top of search results. The algorithm favors fresh listings.

Safety First

Never invite unknown buyers to your home. Meet at a well-lit public location during daytime hours. Accept cash or a secure digital payment method at the time of pickup. Bring a friend to your first few sales if possible.

Local Craft Fairs and Markets

In-person selling teaches you things no online marketplace can: which pieces buyers touch first, which colors they gravitate toward, what questions they ask, and how they react to your prices. Use this information to improve your online listings.

A well-styled booth turns foot traffic into buyers — display your pieces the way they will look in someone's home.

HOW TO CHOOSE THE RIGHT FAIR

Not every craft fair is worth your time and booth fee. Here is how to evaluate one before you commit:

FACTOR	WHAT TO LOOK FOR	RED FLAG
Attendance	Organizer shares past attendance numbers (500+ visitors for a one-day event)	No attendance data available; "we just started"
Booth fee	$50–$150 for a full day is typical for local fairs	Over $300 unless it is a proven, high-traffic event
Vendor mix	Mostly handmade goods, no direct-sales companies	Half the vendors sell the same mass-produced items
Marketing	Organizer promotes the event on social media, local press, flyers	No social media presence, no website
Indoor vs. outdoor	Indoor is preferable for table linens (no wind, rain risk)	Outdoor-only with no rain policy
Repeat event	Annual or seasonal fairs that have run 3+ years	First-time event with an unproven organizer

BOOTH SETUP FOR TABLE PIECES

Your booth is your brand. Set it up to look like a styled dining room, not a garage sale.

- 1 Bring a table. Use a 6-foot folding table draped with a neutral tablecloth (cream, white, or light gray). This becomes your display surface and your product demo.
- 2 Style a full table setting. Set your table runner down the center, place your placemats at two or four positions, and add a centerpiece mat. Add simple plates, glasses, and a candle to show buyers exactly how the pieces look in use.
- 3 Use vertical displays. Hang additional runners from a garment rack or wooden ladder behind your table. This makes your booth visible from across the room.
- 4 Stack extras neatly. Fold additional pieces and stack them on one side of the table with small price tags. Buyers like to browse through a stack.
- 5 Print price cards. Each piece type should have a small printed card showing the name, dimensions, materials, and price. Use a consistent design (Canva has free templates).
- 6 Accept card payments. Use a mobile card reader (Square, SumUp, or similar). Many buyers do not carry cash. A card reader can increase your sales by 30% or more at a fair.

Set your booth up like a styled dining room — let buyers picture each piece on their own table.

Fair Day Pricing Strategy

Offer a "fair special" bundle: buy any two pieces and save 10%, buy three or more and save 15%. Print this on a small sign at the front of your booth. Bundling increases your average transaction value because buyers who came for one piece leave with two.

MARKETPLACE COMPARISON

FEATURE	ETSY	FACEBOOK MARKETPLACE	LOCAL CRAFT FAIR
Listing fee	$0.20 per listing	Free	$50–$200 booth fee
Transaction fee	6.5% of sale price	Free for local pickup	Card reader fee: ~2.6%
Reach	Global buyers searching for handmade	Local buyers within 50 miles	Event attendees (200–2,000+)
Shipping required	Yes (or local pickup option)	No (local pickup is default)	No
Best for	Steady, long-term sales	Quick local sales, clearance	Testing prices, building email list

FEATURE	ETSY	FACEBOOK MARKETPLACE	LOCAL CRAFT FAIR

Payment timeline	Deposit within 3–5 business days	Immediate (cash or digital)	Immediate

Marketplace Launch Checklist

- ☐ Etsy shop created with name, logo, banner, and About section
- ☐ At least 5 listings published with full descriptions and photos
- ☐ Shop policies (processing time, shipping, returns) written and posted
- ☐ Facebook business page created and linked to Marketplace
- ☐ At least 3 Facebook Marketplace listings posted with local keywords
- ☐ Two local craft fairs researched and one booth reserved
- ☐ Mobile card reader ordered and tested
- ☐ Price cards designed and printed for each piece type
- ☐ Booth supplies gathered (table, tablecloth, display props)

1.2 Social Media Selling Strategy

Social media is where you turn followers into customers. You do not need thousands of followers—you need the right content that makes people want your table pieces. This chapter covers the three platforms that actually drive sales for handmade table decor.

Instagram: Your Visual Showroom

Instagram works for table pieces because the platform is visual and your product photographs beautifully. Here is a system for using it to sell.

PROFILE SETUP

- 1 Switch to a business account. This gives you access to insights (who sees your posts, when they are online) and the ability to add a shop link to your bio.
- 2 Write a selling bio. Three lines: what you make, who it is for, and where to buy. Example: "Handmade table runners, placemats & centerpieces • Natural fibers, modern designs • Shop link below"
- 3 Add a link in bio. Use a free link page (Linktree or similar) with links to your Etsy shop, your latest collection, and a "Custom orders" link.
- 4 Choose 9 strong posts before going public. Your first nine posts form the grid people see when they visit your profile. Make each one count.

CONTENT TYPES THAT SELL

Styled Table Shots

Show your piece on a real table with plates, glasses, candles, and food. This is the most effective content type because buyers see exactly how the piece looks in their home.

Post frequency: 2–3 times per week

Process Videos

Short Reels showing your hands creating a piece—tying knots, weaving cord, cutting fabric. These build trust and show the craftsmanship behind your price.

Post frequency: 1–2 Reels per week

Before & After

Show a bare table, then the same table with your pieces styled on it. The transformation is visually powerful and shareable.

Post frequency: 1 per week

Customer Features

Repost photos from buyers who style your pieces in their homes (with permission). This is social proof and free content.

Post frequency: As available

Your Instagram grid is your visual storefront — every post should make someone stop scrolling.

OPTIMAL POSTING TIMES

DAY	BEST TIME (US EASTERN)	WHY
Monday	11:00 AM – 1:00 PM	Lunch break browsing after the weekend
Tuesday	10:00 AM – 12:00 PM	Mid-morning engagement peak
Wednesday	11:00 AM – 1:00 PM	Midweek planning (people thinking about weekend hosting)
Thursday	12:00 PM – 2:00 PM	Weekend shopping starts
Friday	10:00 AM – 11:00 AM	Early morning before weekend plans
Saturday	9:00 AM – 11:00 AM	Weekend crafting and home decor browsing
Sunday	10:00 AM – 1:00 PM	Relaxed browsing, strong buying intent

HASHTAG STRATEGY

Use 20–25 hashtags per post, mixing three categories:

Large (500K+ posts)

Medium (50K–500K)

Small (5K–50K)

Large hashtags (use 5–7): #handmade #homedecor #tablescape #tabledecor #diningroom #farmhousestyle #bohostyle

Medium hashtags (use 8–10): #tablerunner #macramedecor #handmadetabledecor #tablesetting #farmhousetable #jutedecor #wovenhome #handmadehomedecor #tablescaping #cottonrope

Small hashtags (use 5–8): #macrametablerunner #handmadeplacemats #tablecenterpiece #craftedwithlove #naturalfiberdecor #jutetablerunner #handwoven #tablelinen

Hashtag Mistakes to Avoid

Do not use banned or flagged hashtags (search each one first to verify it shows results). Do not use the same 25 hashtags on every post—rotate them. Do not use irrelevant popular hashtags like #love or #beautiful just for reach. Instagram can reduce your visibility if it detects hashtag spam.

Facebook Groups: Your Hidden Sales Channel

Facebook groups dedicated to home decor, farmhouse style, dining room design, and handmade crafts are where your buyers already hang out. Your job is to become a helpful member first and a seller second.

- 1 Join 5–10 groups related to home decor, tablescaping, handmade crafts, and farmhouse/boho living. Look for groups with at least 5,000 members and regular activity.
- 2 Spend the first two weeks engaging. Comment on other people's posts with genuine feedback. Answer questions about table styling. Do not promote your shop yet.
- 3 Share a styled photo. After two weeks of engagement, post a photo of a table you styled with your pieces. Keep the caption conversational: "Finally finished this runner for my Thanksgiving table! Made it from natural cotton cord—took about 8 hours." Let people ask where to buy.
- 4 When asked, direct to your shop. Reply with your shop link only when someone specifically asks. Groups that allow self-promotion will have designated days (e.g., "Self-promo Saturday").
- 5 Post consistently. Share one to two posts per week in your most active groups. Vary between styled photos, process shots, and helpful tips about table decor.

Pinterest: The Long Game That Pays

Pinterest is not a social network—it is a visual search engine. A pin you create today can drive traffic to your shop for months or years. For table decor, Pinterest is powerful because people actively search for "table runner ideas," "Thanksgiving table decor," and "farmhouse dining table."

PINTEREST SETUP FOR SELLERS

- 1 Create a business account (or convert your personal one). This gives you analytics and rich pins.

- 2 Create boards that match buyer searches: "Table Runner Inspiration," "Farmhouse Table Decor," "Holiday Table Settings," "Dining Room Ideas," "Handmade Home Decor."
- 3 Pin your own products. Each product listing gets its own pin. Use a vertical image (1000×1500 pixels works best). Write a description with keywords buyers search for.
- 4 Pin other content too. For every one of your own pins, pin five from other sources. This keeps your boards valuable and avoids looking spammy.
- 5 Pin consistently. Aim for 5–15 pins per day. Use a scheduling tool (Tailwind has a free tier for Pinterest) to spread them out.

Seasonal Pinterest Strategy

Start pinning seasonal content 45–60 days before the event. Pin Thanksgiving table settings in mid-September. Pin Christmas table decor in mid-October. Pin Easter and spring content in early February. Pinterest search traffic peaks weeks before each holiday, and your pins need time to gain traction.

WEEKLY CONTENT CALENDAR FRAMEWORK

DAY	INSTAGRAM	FACEBOOK GROUP	PINTEREST
Monday	Styled table photo	Comment on 5 posts	Pin 5–10 pins
Tuesday	Reel: process video	Share a helpful tip	Pin 5–10 pins
Wednesday	Story: behind the scenes	Comment on 5 posts	Pin 5–10 pins
Thursday	Styled table photo	Post a styled photo	Pin 5–10 pins
Friday	Reel: before & after	Comment on 5 posts	Pin 5–10 pins
Saturday	Customer feature or testimonial	Self-promo post (if allowed)	Pin 5–10 pins
Sunday	Story: what you are working on	Rest or light commenting	Pin 5–10 pins

1.3 Pricing for Real Profit

Most craft sellers underprice their work because they calculate cost based on materials alone. That is a fast path to burnout. This chapter gives you a formula that covers your true costs and pays you what your time and skill are worth.

The Profit Pricing Formula

Every price you set should follow this formula:

Price = (Materials + Labor + Overhead) × Profit Multiplier

Materials: Every cord, every yard of fabric, every clasp, every bit of glue. Include packaging materials and shipping supplies.

Labor: Hours spent making the piece × your hourly rate. A skilled craftsperson should charge at minimum $20–$25/hour. If you have been making pieces for over a year and sell consistently, $30–$40/hour is appropriate.

Overhead: A percentage added to cover tools, workspace, electricity, internet, marketplace fees, listing photos, and other business costs. Use 15–20% of (Materials + Labor).

Profit Multiplier: Multiply the total by 1.5–2.0. This is your wholesale-to-retail markup and the margin that lets your business grow.

PRICING EXAMPLE: MACRAME TABLE RUNNER (72 INCHES)

COST CATEGORY	DETAIL	AMOUNT
Materials	200 yards of 4mm cotton cord @ $0.06/yard	$12.00
Materials	Wooden dowel rod (36 inches)	$3.50
Materials	Packaging (tissue paper, box, thank-you card)	$2.50
Materials subtotal		$18.00
Labor	6 hours @ $25/hour	$150.00
Overhead	15% of ($18 + $150)	$25.20
Cost subtotal		$193.20
Profit multiplier	× 1.5 (conservative retail margin)	—
Selling price		$289.80 → $290

If that number feels high, remember: this is a one-of-a-kind, handmade piece that took six hours to create. Mass-produced runners sell for $30–$60. Your buyer is paying for craftsmanship, uniqueness, and quality materials. Do not compete on price with factories.

PRICE RANGES BY PIECE TYPE

PIECE TYPE	MATERIALS COST	TYPICAL HOURS	SUGGESTED PRICE RANGE
Mini table runner (36–48 inches)	$6–$10	2–3 hours	$75–$120
Standard table runner (60–72 inches)	$12–$20	5–7 hours	$180–$320
Extra-long runner (90–108 inches)	$20–$30	7–10 hours	$300–$480
Single placemat	$3–$6	1–1.5 hours	$28–$45
Set of 4 placemats	$12–$22	4–6 hours	$95–$160
Set of 6 placemats	$18–$32	6–9 hours	$140–$230
Centerpiece mat (round, 14–18 inches)	$5–$10	2–3 hours	$65–$110
Table runner + 4 placemats bundle	$24–$40	9–13 hours	$260–$420
Full table set (runner + 6 mats + centerpiece)	$35–$60	13–19 hours	$380–$600

Track every spool and every purchase — organized inventory means accurate pricing and no surprise cost overruns.

Materials Cost Tracking System

Keep a simple spreadsheet (or a notebook) for every material purchase. Track these columns:

COLUMN	WHAT TO RECORD	EXAMPLE
Date	When you bought it	2026-09-15
Material	Name and specs	4mm single-twist cotton cord
Quantity	How much you bought	500 yards
Total cost	What you paid including shipping	$34.50
Cost per unit	Total ÷ quantity	$0.069/yard
Supplier	Where you bought it	Online craft supply store

Review this spreadsheet monthly. You will spot opportunities to buy in bulk, switch to cheaper suppliers for certain materials, and catch price increases before they eat into your margins.

When and How to Raise Prices

Raise your prices when any of these happen:

- You are selling out faster than you can make new pieces. High demand means your prices are below what the market will pay. Raise by 10–15% and see if demand holds.
- Your materials cost has increased. Do not absorb material cost increases. Pass them through to your prices within 30 days.
- You have improved your skills. Your work six months from now will be better than your work today. Better work commands higher prices.
- You are getting repeat customers. Repeat buyers have already decided your work is worth the price. They will accept a moderate increase.
- You have a waitlist for custom orders. If people are waiting weeks for your work, your prices are too low.

How to Announce a Price Increase

Post about it 2–3 weeks before it takes effect. Frame it positively: "I have invested in higher-quality materials and refined my techniques, and my pricing will reflect that starting [date]. Current prices are available until then." This often triggers a rush of orders at the old price.

Pricing Checklist

- ☐ Materials cost per piece calculated (including packaging and shipping supplies)
- ☐ Hourly rate set at $20/hour minimum
- ☐ Overhead percentage applied (15–20%)
- ☐ Profit multiplier applied (1.5–2.0×)
- ☐ Final price compared against similar handmade pieces (not mass-produced)
- ☐ Etsy fees factored in (listing fee + 6.5% transaction fee + payment processing)
- ☐ Shipping cost calculated or built into price
- ☐ Bundle discounts planned (10–15% off two or more pieces)
- ☐ Materials cost spreadsheet set up and first entries recorded

Six hours of work in 30 seconds.

Making [YOUR PIECE NAME] from a pile of cord to a finished table runner. Every row is a deliberate choice—the tension, the spacing, the pattern. This is what "handmade" really means.

I used about 200 yards of 4mm cotton cord for this one. The knots are a combination of square knots and spiral patterns that give it that woven texture.

Bought individually, these five pieces would cost $[individual total]. As a set: $[bundle price].

CAPTION

Your table. Your colors. Your length. Made just for you.

I take custom orders for table runners, placemats, and centerpiece mats. Here is how it works:

1. You tell me your table size and the colors or style you are looking for.
2. I send you a few design options with cord samples.
3. You pick your favorite. I make it.
4. Your one-of-a-kind piece arrives at your door, ready for your table.

Turnaround time is typically 2–3 weeks depending on the piece. Custom pricing starts at the same rate as my shop pieces—no upcharge for choosing your own colors.

To get started, send me a DM with your table dimensions and any inspiration photos you love.

The Perfect Product Photo Guide

Your photos are your storefront. This section shows you how to take professional-quality product photos with the phone you already own.

Buyers cannot touch your table runners through a screen. Your photos do all the selling. A great photo makes a $250 piece look worth $250. A poor photo makes that same piece look like a $25 mass-produced item. Here is how to take photos that sell.

Phone Camera Settings

You do not need a professional camera. The phone in your pocket takes photos that are more than good enough for online selling. Here is how to set it up:

- 1 Clean your lens. Seriously. Wipe it with a soft cloth before every photo session. A smudged lens creates a hazy, amateur look that no editing can fix.
- 2 Turn off the flash. Always. Phone flash creates harsh, flat lighting that washes out texture. You want natural light only.
- 3 Set to the highest resolution. Open your camera settings and set photo quality to the highest available option. Etsy recommends images at least 2000 pixels wide.
- 4 Turn on grid lines. Enable the 3×3 grid overlay. This helps you center your piece and apply the rule of thirds for more interesting compositions.
- 5 Lock exposure and focus. Tap and hold on your piece in the camera preview. This locks the focus and exposure so the camera does not shift while you frame the shot.
- 6 Use the timer. Set a 3-second or 10-second timer. This eliminates the tiny shake that happens when you press the shutter button, giving you a sharper image.

Your phone is the only camera you need — clean lens, natural light, and a steady hand do the rest.

The Window Lighting Setup

This is the only lighting setup you need. It is free, it is simple, and it produces professional results.

How It Works

Place your table or shooting surface next to a large window. The window should be to one side of your piece, not directly behind or in front of you. Position your piece about 2–3 feet from the window. The indirect, diffused light from the window wraps around the piece and reveals the texture of the cord or fabric without creating harsh shadows.

The window lighting setup in action — one window, one reflector, and your piece positioned to catch soft, even light.

Do This

- Use a north-facing window (consistent soft light all day)
- Shoot between 10:00 AM and 2:00 PM for the brightest light
- Hang a white sheet or sheer curtain if direct sunlight hits the window
- Place a white foam board on the opposite side of the piece from the window to bounce light back and fill shadows

Avoid This

- Shooting at night with overhead room lights (creates yellow color cast and flat lighting)
- Direct sunlight hitting the piece (creates hard shadows and blown-out highlights)
- Mixing window light with artificial light (creates competing color temperatures)
- Shooting with the window behind you (creates your shadow on the piece)

The White Foam Board Trick

Buy a sheet of white foam board from any dollar store or craft supply shop. Prop it up on the side of your piece opposite the window. It acts as a reflector, bouncing window light back onto the piece and filling in shadows. This single $1 item makes a bigger difference than any expensive lighting kit.

5 Background Options You Already Have at Home

Your background matters almost as much as your piece. It should complement, not compete. Here are five options you do not need to buy:

#	BACKGROUND	LOOK IT CREATES	BEST FOR	WHERE TO GET IT
1	White bedsheet (ironed flat)	Clean, minimal, modern	Product-only hero shots, Etsy listings	Your linen closet
2	Large wood cutting board or butcher block	Warm, natural, rustic	Farmhouse-style pieces, table runners	Your kitchen
3	Marble tile (12×24 inches, matte)	Elegant, sophisticated, high-end	Modern and minimalist pieces, gift sets	Hardware store (one tile costs $3–$8)
4	Natural linen cloth (unbleached)	Textured, artisan, organic	Boho-style pieces, centerpiece mats	Fabric store or your linen collection
5	Slate board or dark stone surface	Dramatic contrast, moody	Light-colored pieces that need contrast	Kitchen supply store or garden section

Composition Rules for Flat Lays

A flat lay is a photo shot from directly above, looking straight down at the piece. It is the most important angle for table pieces because it shows the full pattern and gives buyers a sense of scale.

- 1 Fill the frame. Your piece should take up 70–80% of the image. Buyers want to see the piece, not a vast expanse of background.
- 2 Leave breathing room. Leave a consistent margin of 1–2 inches of background on all sides. Do not crop into the piece or let it touch the edges.
- 3 Use the rule of thirds. Place the most interesting part of the pattern at one of the four intersections on your grid overlay, not dead center.
- 4 Add 2–3 props maximum. A candle, a small plant, a folded napkin. Props give context but should never compete with the piece. If the prop draws the eye more than the piece, remove it.
- 5 Keep props on opposite corners. If you place a candle at the top-left, put a small plant at the bottom-right. This creates visual balance without crowding.
- 6 Straighten your edges. Stand directly above the piece, not at an angle. If your phone has a "level" indicator in the camera app, use it. Crooked flat lays look careless.

A few simple edits — brightness, contrast, and white balance — take a good photo and make it sell.

Editing with Free Phone Apps

Editing does not mean making your photos look fake. It means correcting what your camera got wrong. Here are the only adjustments you need to make:

ADJUSTMENT	WHAT IT FIXES	HOW MUCH TO ADJUST	APP TO USE
Brightness	Photos that are too dark	Increase by 10–20%. Stop before it looks washed out.	Snapseed (free, iOS and Android)
Contrast	Flat, dull-looking photos	Increase by 5–15%. This makes the piece pop against the background.	Snapseed or the built-in Photos app
White balance	Photos with a yellow or blue color cast	Adjust until white areas look truly white. This is the most important edit.	Snapseed (White Balance tool > Tint)
Sharpening	Slightly soft photos	Increase by 10–25%. Too much sharpening creates a gritty, unnatural look.	Snapseed (Details > Sharpening)
Cropping	Uneven margins, distracting edges	Crop to a 4:5 ratio for Instagram or 1:1 for Etsy thumbnails.	Any app with a crop tool

Straighten	Slightly tilted photos	Rotate until horizontal lines are truly horizontal.	Built-in Photos app (Edit > Crop > Straighten)

Editing Mistakes That Kill Sales

Do not use filters. Filters change the color of your piece and lead to returns when the buyer receives something that looks different from the photo. Do not increase saturation to make colors look more vivid—shoot in good light instead. Do not add vignettes, borders, or watermarks. Clean and accurate beats stylized every time.

Every listing needs multiple photos. Here is what to shoot for each type of piece:

Listing 1: Classic Table Runner (Neutral Tones)

Etsy

Table Runner

TITLE

DESCRIPTION

This handmade macrame table runner is crafted from natural, unbleached cotton cord in a classic knotted pattern that adds warmth and texture to any dining table. The neutral tone works with virtually every color palette—farmhouse, modern, bohemian, coastal, or traditional.

Each knot is tied by hand, making every piece slightly unique. The pattern features alternating square knots that create a woven lattice effect with soft, brushed fringe at both ends. The runner has a gentle drape that follows the natural contour of your table.

Dimensions: approximately 12 inches wide by 72 inches long (excluding fringe). Fringe adds 4–5 inches on each end. This size fits a standard 6-foot dining table with a generous overhang on each side.

Care instructions: spot clean with mild soap and cool water. Lay flat to dry. To refresh the fringe, gently brush with a wide-tooth comb after washing. This piece is meant to be used, not just displayed—it gets softer and more beautiful with time.

Listing 2: Holiday Table Runner (Christmas/Winter)

Etsy

Seasonal

Christmas Table Runner Handmade, Holiday Macrame Runner, Winter Table Decor, Farmhouse Christmas Table, Ivory Knotted Runner for Holiday Dining

DESCRIPTION

Dress your holiday table with a handmade macrame runner that brings warmth and texture to your Christmas dinner, Thanksgiving gathering, or winter celebration. This piece is crafted from soft ivory cotton cord in a detailed knotted pattern that pairs beautifully with evergreen branches, candles, and seasonal table settings.

Unlike mass-produced holiday runners that get thrown away after a season, this is a piece you will bring out year after year. The ivory cotton develops a softer hand over time and the natural material ages gracefully. Pair it with gold or silver accents for an elegant look, or with plaid napkins and pinecones for rustic charm.

Dimensions: approximately 12 inches wide by 72 inches long (excluding fringe). Fringe adds 4–5 inches on each end. Custom lengths available upon request—send a message with your table measurements for a quote.

Each runner is made to order with a processing time of 5–7 business days. Order early for holiday delivery—recommended order-by dates for guaranteed delivery are listed in the shop announcement.

Listing 3: Set of 4 Placemats (Modern)

Etsy

Placemat Set

TITLE

Macrame Placemats Set of 4, Modern Handmade Placemats, Woven Cotton Placemats, Boho Dining Placemats, Natural Table Setting

DESCRIPTION

This set of four handmade macrame placemats brings texture and personality to your daily table setting. The clean geometric pattern has a modern feel while the natural cotton cord keeps them warm and inviting. These are not just decoration—they are functional pieces that protect your table and elevate every meal.

Each placemat in the set is made from the same batch of cord, so the color and texture are perfectly matched. The tight knotwork creates a stable, flat surface that sits firmly under plates without bunching or sliding. The edges are finished with a narrow border that prevents fraying.

Dimensions: each placemat measures approximately 14 inches wide by 18 inches long. This fits a standard dinner plate with room for flatware and a glass on either side.

Care: these placemats are practical enough for everyday use. Wipe spills promptly with a damp cloth. For a deeper clean, hand wash in cool water with mild soap and lay flat to dry. They come back to their original shape after every wash.

Listing 4: Set of 4 Placemats (Rustic Farmhouse)

Etsy

Placemat Set

TITLE

Farmhouse Placemats Set of 4, Jute Macrame Placemats, Rustic Table Setting, Handmade Woven Placemats, Natural Jute Dining Mats

DESCRIPTION

These rustic farmhouse placemats are handmade from natural jute cord in a sturdy, earthy knotted pattern. The golden-brown tone of jute brings that warm, lived-in farmhouse feeling to any table—wood, painted, glass, or stone. They look right at home in a country kitchen and equally stunning at a reclaimed-wood dining table.

Jute is a naturally durable fiber, which makes these placemats practical for everyday meals. The material develops a softer, slightly lighter patina with use, making each set more characterful over time. The tight weave pattern gives each mat enough weight and stiffness to stay flat on the table without curling at the edges.

Dimensions: each placemat measures approximately 13 inches wide by 17 inches long. The set includes four placemats, all made from the same jute spool for consistent color matching.

These are a wonderful gift for anyone who loves the farmhouse aesthetic. They ship in a craft paper sleeve, ready to give. For a complete farmhouse table set, pair them with the matching jute table runner (available in a separate listing or as a bundle).

Listing 5: Centerpiece Mat (Round, Decorative)

Etsy

Centerpiece

TITLE

Macrame Centerpiece Mat Round, Handmade Table Doily, Boho Table Centerpiece, Woven Cotton Round Mat, Decorative Table Accent

DESCRIPTION

This round macrame centerpiece mat is handmade from natural cotton cord in a radiating spiral pattern. It sits at the center of your table and anchors a vase, candle arrangement, fruit bowl, or seasonal display. The open knotwork pattern lets the surface of your table show through, creating a layered, textured look.

The design works in every room: dining table center, coffee table accent, nightstand decoration, or as a base for a plant pot. The soft cotton cord gives it a gentle drape that conforms to any surface, flat or slightly curved.

Dimensions: approximately 16 inches in diameter. The size is designed to fit under a standard 8–10 inch vase or a grouping of three candles with room to spare.

This centerpiece mat also works beautifully as a wall hanging. Attach a small hook or nail to the wall, loop the mat over it, and it creates a round, textured wall accent. One piece, two uses.

Listing 6: Table Runner + 4 Placemats Bundle

Etsy

Bundle

TITLE

Macrame Table Set Runner and Placemats, Handmade Table Bundle, Matching Table Runner with 4 Placemats, Boho Dining Set, Complete Table Decor

DESCRIPTION

Why buy separately when you can get the complete table look in one order? This handmade bundle includes one macrame table runner and four matching placemats, all crafted from the same batch of natural cotton cord so the color, texture, and knot style are perfectly coordinated.

The runner features an open lattice pattern with brushed fringe, and each placemat echoes the same knotwork in a compact, functional size. Together, they transform a bare table into a styled, intentional space without the guesswork of mixing and matching different pieces from different makers.

Bundle dimensions: Table runner is approximately 12 inches wide by 72 inches long (plus 4–5 inches of fringe on each end). Each placemat measures approximately 14 inches wide by 18 inches long. The set fits a standard 6-foot dining table with four place settings.

This set is priced at a 15% discount compared to buying each piece individually. It ships in one package, carefully rolled and wrapped to prevent tangling. Custom sets (6 placemats, longer runner, specific colors) are available—send a message with your requirements for a quote.

Listing 8: Seasonal Set (Spring/Easter)

Seasonal

TITLE

Spring Table Runner Handmade, Easter Table Decor, Pastel Macrame Runner, Spring Dining Table Set, Handmade Spring Centerpiece

DESCRIPTION

Welcome spring to your table with this handmade macrame runner in soft, natural tones that pair perfectly with pastel dishes, fresh flowers, and Easter table settings. The light, airy pattern of this piece evokes the feeling of a fresh season without being overtly themed—you can use it from March through June and it will look right every time.

This runner is crafted from a softer, lighter-weight cotton cord that gives it a delicate, almost lacy appearance while remaining durable enough for daily use. The pattern features a mix of gathering knots and open spaces that let light and the surface of your table show through, adding depth without heaviness.

Dimensions: approximately 12 inches wide by 60 inches long (excluding fringe). Fringe adds 3–4 inches on each end. This length is ideal for a 4 to 5 person table or as a sideboard accent.

Styling ideas: lay this runner down the center of your table and add a low vase of tulips or daffodils. Place small potted herbs at each end. Set out pastel-toned plates or simple white dishes. The runner does the heavy lifting—you just need a few fresh touches around it.

Listing 10: Mini Table Runner (Coffee Table / Side Table)

Etsy

Mini Runner

Mini Macrame Table Runner, Coffee Table Runner Handmade, Small Table Runner, Side Table Decor, Short Boho Runner, Console Table Runner

DESCRIPTION

Not every table is a 6-foot dining table. This mini macrame runner is designed for coffee tables, side tables, console tables, nightstands, and dressers—any surface that deserves a touch of handmade texture without being overwhelmed by a full-size runner.

The pattern is the same detailed knotwork as my full-size runners, scaled down to fit smaller surfaces. The fringe is trimmed shorter and more tightly brushed for a clean, proportional look on a compact piece. Despite its smaller size, this runner has the same visual impact: it turns a bare surface into a styled one in seconds.

Dimensions: approximately 10 inches wide by 36 inches long (excluding fringe). Fringe adds 2–3 inches on each end. This size works perfectly on a coffee table (centered or offset), an entryway console, a bathroom vanity, or draped across a footstool.

This mini runner is also a great entry-point purchase if you are new to handmade table pieces. It is a lower price point than a full-size runner but gives you the same quality, craftsmanship, and materials. Many customers order a mini first, fall in love with the texture, and come back for the full dining set.
